

ABSTRACT

'Integrated HR and task Management System' is a requisite software as it contributes to daily human resource task ranging from being in charge of employee's attendance, granting leave, recruitment project management, performance, time sheet, work flow policies, all at the same location with easy accessibility. Foremost objective is to locomote information and data of employees to one or several companies. The employee management system has also focused on making daily human resource task easy and time saving along with increasing productivity and moreover this system is designed for the particular need of company to carry out staff associated activities in a smooth and effective manner.